

BENJAMIN HOWARD BIOGRAPHY

Updated Winter 2025

Hailed as a “standout” (Chicago Tribune) and praised for his “authenticity and smooth sound” (OperaWire), baritone Benjamin Howard is a rising talent based in New York City. His 2025-26 season began with a major motion picture debut, singing onscreen in The History of Sound starring Paul Mescal and Josh O’Connor. Upcoming engagements include the title role in the world premiere opera Prince Cnut with Ex Corde in NYC, followed by a European tour with the GRAMMY®-nominated Clarion Choir alongside Harry Bicket and The English Concert.

Recent solo performances include Vaughan Williams' Five Mystical Songs with the Westchester Oratorio Society and Bach's Mass in B Minor with New York Baroque Incorporated. On the opera stage, Benjamin was featured this past spring in two world premieres: Paola Prestini's Sensorium Ex with Beth Morrison Projects in Omaha, Nebraska and Whitney George's No Man's Land with The Curiosity Cabinet in Brooklyn, NY. Other stage highlights include Rapunzel's Prince in Into the Woods with Utah Festival Opera, Pish-Tush in The Mikado with Pacific Opera Project, and Publio in La Clemenza di Tito with Bronx Opera.

A Los Angeles native, Benjamin Howard is currently a baritone/bass in New York's world-renowned Saint Thomas Choir of Men & Boys. Benjamin received his Bachelor of Music and Musical Theatre Certificate from Northwestern University and Master of Music degree from the University of North Texas. Proud member of the American Guild of Musical Artists.
